Docket No. 2156-612A

ABSTRACT

A composition and process for electroplating a conductive metal layer onto the surface of a non-conductive material is disclosed. The composition and process utilizes an obvious dispersion traditional carbon black particles and highly conductive carbon black particles. The mixture of carbon blacks provides optimum dispersion and electroplating properties.

5

{W1290240}